

FEEDING OUR COMMUNITIES PARTNERS

Engaging our community in solving youth hunger

2019-2020
ANNUAL REPORT

THRIVING IN UNPRECEDENTED TIMES

At times, the obstacles presented over the last year seemed endless. As we navigated economic uncertainty, fear of the unknown and extreme limitations to personal contact, the ground seemed to shift with each step beneath our feet. In reflection, it would be easy to focus on the challenges (upon challenges, upon challenges) the global pandemic placed before us. Though FOCP collected our fair share of crisis-related Whammies, each miraculously provided an opportunity for our organization to further evolve. Throughout the tumultuous and unavoidable rollercoaster ride of 2020, we have persevered with adaptability and innovation, emerging with a deeper sense of community connection.

As many families faced joblessness for the first time in their lives, and others strived to support youth within a new distance learning environment, the issue of hunger did not fade. We knew it was of the utmost importance to ensure FOCP services remained a reliable resource for youth. When traditional processes were no longer a viable option, food supply options were limited and volunteer support roles were jeopardized, we quickly adapted and developed a new model of service delivery that brought food directly to the doorsteps of youth. And we did not stop there. With the meal gap widening, we further expanded our offerings to supplement missing nutrition.

When safety protocols prohibited large group gatherings, it created shifts in the typical format for fundraisers. Knowing the importance of such events for the fulfillment of our food budget, we initiated an innovative approach to event engagement. Virtual Beer, Brats and Bourbon for BackPack was born with diverse options for participants to engage in sampling craft beer and fine spirits from the unique setting of their own home or backyard. Prior to the event, local participants received hand-delivered party packages complete with beer, bourbon and treats to be savored throughout the night.

The live stream format of the event allowed for interactions with Wall Street Journal-bestselling author, bourbon curator and taster, Fred Minnick. Lack of concerts and tour schedules provided the opportunity for a live, nostalgia-packed performance from Emmy award winning band, Soul Asylum. Participants joined in the festivities from near and far (even Canada and Brazil). The evening surpassed expectations and quickly became one that we will never forget.

Throughout each of the hurdles we've encountered over the last year, our commitment has not wavered from providing food as basic fuel for student success. One thing has also remained constant: this community has proved that, together, we can confidently rise to meet each challenge. Together, we can feed area youth and thus cultivate learning. Together, we can change lives.

The truth is we are a stronger organization today than we were a year ago. We have learned, yet again, that adversity often brings great opportunity. With that, we move onward and upward.

School Survey Results

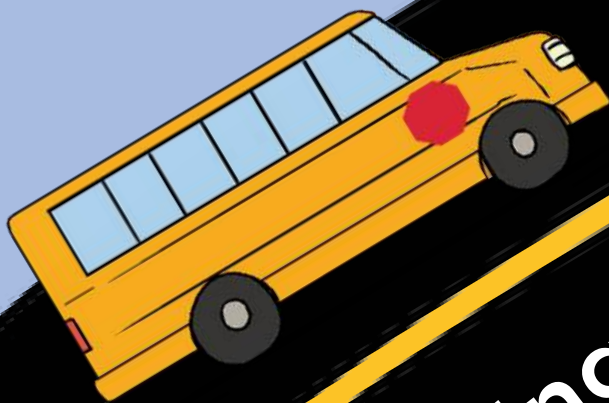

In Minnesota, nearly 1 in 8 households currently experience food insecurity. Food insecurity can mean cutting back on meals or skipping meals entirely. This results in negative impacts on academic performance and behavior in children. Children who face hunger are more likely to perform worse in math, repeat a grade, come to school late or miss days entirely.

Launched in 2010, Feeding Our Communities Partners (FOCP) helps students who live in food-insecure households by providing breakfast, lunch and snack food items for weekends and school breaks. Community supported and community led, we are committed to setting students up on the Road to Success!

Founded in 2010, the Backpack Food Program was developed to serve food-insecure elementary students by providing meals on weekends and school breaks.

Hunger doesn't stop after fifth grade, so the Power Pack Program was born in 2017 to serve middle school students, giving them the extra boost of energy growing kids need.

The Summer Pack Program was launched in 2019 and provides weekend food packs delivered once a month during the summer to provide nutritious meals outside of the school year.

An estimated 1 in 5 Minnesota children will be struggling with food insecurity due to the economic effects of COVID-19. Recognizing a greater need in the community, FOCP increased existing programming and took on new projects in 2020 to provide hundreds of thousands of meals to the greater Mankato community. Since the state first shut down, FOCP mobilized staff and volunteers to continue and grow programming in a time when so many have needed assistance.

LIVING

OUR MISSION TO SOLVE YOUTH HUNGER

Over 2,333 volunteers assist in the preparation, transportation and delivery of food packs. These volunteers also answer the call to help with events such as Beer, Brats & Bourbon, and work with our team for special food distributions like the Summer Lunch Outreach Program. During the 2019-2020 school year, volunteers took charge to help distribute food to students amidst mass shutdowns.

In the wake of state shutdowns, Second Harvest Heartland and the USDA partnered to provide food to thousands of Minnesotans. Working with Second Harvest Heartland, we hosted free food distributions for residents of Blue Earth County and mobilized our volunteer network to support the community.

This school year has changed drastically from years previous, but that has not deterred Hunger Heroes from doing what it takes to feed hungry tummies in the community. Pack sessions now have limited numbers to ensure social distancing, food packs have evolved into food boxes and new contactless deliveries minimize the number of hands on a given box.

Although the way we volunteer has changed, the number of folks willing to step up to the plate has only grown. Volunteers have come through in a global pandemic and aided in the preparation of food packs, the subsequent loading of those packs into 2020's food boxes and the delivery of thousands of boxes directly to the homes of enrolled students.

The resilience of these Hunger Heroes has helped countless students enrolled in FOCP's programs find a source of consistency in 2020 when there were so many unknowns.

INNOVATING

CLASSIC EVENTS IN NEW CONDITIONS

The show must go on! For Beer, Brats & Bourbon 2020, FOCP adapted to social distancing guidelines and hosted the first ever Virtual Beer, Brats, & Bourbon on August 7th. In the traditional in-person format, the popular fundraiser hosts local breweries, bourbon tastings and live music.

This year, participants were able to engage with representatives from Summit Brewing Co., Bent Paddle Brewing Co., Mankato Brewery and Schell's Beer in a virtual Q&A while tasting samples from each brewery. Those streaming also heard from Wall Street Journal-bestselling author, bourbon curator and taster, Fred Minnick, in a live stream bourbon tasting.

The musical portion of the night was kicked off by local band Bee Balm Fields, followed by a performance from artists

Dave Pirner and Ryan Smith of Grammy Award winning Soul Asylum.

Prior to the event, local participants received hand-delivered party packages with all the beer, bourbon and treats they would sample throughout the night. During the event, participants were also invited to bid in a virtual silent auction and donate to fund FOCP's Backpack Food Program and Power Pack Program.

With social distancing guidelines caused by the current pandemic, the community, including many local businesses, came through to support FOCP and all the kids enrolled in our programs, making the event a huge success. With so much uncertainty and stress this year, the funds have gone directly towards ensuring that our students' biggest worry will be homework, not hunger.

As the main source of weekend food for students in the Backpack and Power Pack Food Programs, the services FOCP provides are essential for the health of those youth. With a global pandemic, the way we deliver and interact shifted to keep volunteers, staff and students safe. Using a new contactless delivery system reduces the number of hands in the process and ensures the safety of everyone involved. From limiting packing group sizes to contactless loading of volunteer cars, FOCP's new volunteer system limits the number of contacts from production to consumption.

CONNECTING OUR COMMUNITY

CLIMB 2 FEED KIDS

JAN

JUN

To round out traditional school year services and fill summer service gaps, FOCP launched a program in the summer of 2019 aimed at serving students from June-August. Thanks to volunteers, a monthly box of food was delivered directly to the doorsteps of hundreds of food-insecure youth in an effort to feed hungry tummies while eliminating transportation and accessibility barriers.

CIRQUE DU CRAVE

OCT

A one-of-a-kind culinary competition featuring dishes prepared by local chefs utilizing an item from a food pack. Attendees mix and mingle under the big top, while being wowed by circus performers and sideshows, all while raising awareness about youth hunger!

FEED & READ

DEC

To sustain students for the long winter break, FOCP and partners distribute additional food items to families at the Winter Break Feed & Read. Student families are invited to pick up their food at a pre-determined location. Additional resources are available to families at the event--including brand new books supplied by community partners.

FUELING PARTNERS

Throughout 2020, FOCP accomplished so much. We served hundreds of thousands of additional meals, adapted our programs to meet current guidelines and successfully hosted fundraising and food distribution events. However, none of these accomplishments would have been possible without the ongoing support of our community partners. From the bottom of our hearts, we extend our most sincere thanks to everyone who has dug into their pockets to support our mission. Together we will solve youth hunger in our communities!
